The Warrior, Military Ethics and Contemporary Warfare M. Kaurin 2016-02-17 When it comes to thinking about war and warriors, first there was Achilles, and then the rest followed. The term warrior is an important one for this discussion. While there has been extensive discussion of what counts as military professionalism, that is what makes a soldier, sailor or other military professional, the warrior archetype (varied for the various roles and service branches) still holds a central place in the military self-conception, rooted as it is in the more existential notions of war, honor and duty. In this volume, Kaurin uses Achilles as a touch stone for discussing the warrior, military ethical and cultural aspects of contemporary warfare that go by the name of 'asymmetrical war.' The title of the book is a nod to the two ways-Achilles as a warrior archetype to help us think through the moral implications and challenges posed by asymmetrical warfare, but also as an archetype of our adversaries to help us think about asymmetric opponents.

Course 15 Nco DLC Self Study Notebook Medina 2018-10-27 The old NCOA Course 15 has been phased out and replaced with NCO DLC. Everyone still calls it Course 15 across several mediums online. There was a gap in the way people are studying for this course and I dug around trying to figure it out. I put this guide and notebook together based on my findings. If you did not know yet and flashcard resources you have been using online are considered against the policy. But even if that, they simply do not help you on your quest to get NCO DLC done. ? Tips and Tricks ? Rules and Regulations ? Clear Cut Study Method ? Organized Notetaking by Module This is the best answer to what's out there currently. This is the first edition and we will keep improving with user feedback. Please do not break the rules of Academic Integrity and Test Compromise. While some of this might seem basic, you may be shocked to find out when asked, how many people will just 'wing it' with testing and not really understand the content and just test to gauge where they are with their knowledge. This course is made to be a challenge with a purpose. We created a note-taking section simply broken down by the modules so you can easily go back through and take important notes as you go through the course materials. Course Modules Are: ? Course Foundation ? Leadership and Management ? Operational Airman Career Development you know the Air Force has said: "The contact time required to complete NCO DLC is 78 hours. That Air University recommends students devote 2 hours of additional study time for each contact hour, the total time required to master the materials and effectively prepare for course examinations is 156 hours. This should not be confused with a 'How To Study' book. You should study the content and know what kind of learner you are.
